CANAL QUESTION UP.

Bill to Abandon Wabash Section in Paulding County.

MEASURE FINALLY PASSES HOUSE.

Matters of Only Local Importance Take Up the Time in the House. Bills Introduced and Passed in Both Branches.

Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—The Thursday morning session of the house was a long and tedious grind, which grew monotonous through the passage of "stakey" little bills of only local importance and the continual squabble over minor details. The most important act was the passage of a limitation act for the relief of the holders of the capital stock of corporations. As the law now stands, the constitutional liability of stockholders never ceases. Cases have been known where the estates of men who had held stock but for a few days in order to encourage some enterprise, were held for the double liability.

A bill by Mr. Fraser of Lucas county limits this to two years after the stock is transferred. After considerable argument upon the part of those who acknowledged afterward that they did not understand the bill, it was passed almost unanimously.

The canal question was sprung when the bill to abandon a short section of the Wabash canal in Paulding county came up. The bill as introduced and recommended by the committee would have returned the title of the land to abutting property owners, but this clause was stricken out and the bill passed. The bill brought out much discussion which shows that there is considerable interest in the Sheets bill to be introduced in a few days.

The Hays bill to abandon "Arbor Day" and substitute "Forest and Bird Day" passed the house with very little opposition. The bill provides that a day in April be set apart to be observed in all the schools of the state. On that day teachers of all grades will be required to give their pupils instructions in tree and bird life. Forestry and ornithology will be taught in the higher grades.

Bills were passed in the house as follows: By Mr. Brown, to abandon a strip of the Wabash canal in Paulding county; Mr. Buchtel, to change the name of Charles McGinnis to Charles Boyden; Mr. Hays, to abolish "Arbor Day" and substitute "Bird and Forest Day"; Mr. Willis, to authorize the city of Kenton to transfer funds; Mr. Chapman, to authorize the city of Dayton to transfer funds; Mr. Fraser, to fix a limit for the statutory liability of stockholders; Mr. York, to permit guardians to lease the land of their wards for mining purposes, but not for more than 15 years, and the lease to expire when the ward reaches his majority; Mr. Earhart, to repeal an act which authorized the construction of a county road through the state farm at the reformatory at Mansfield.

In the Senate.

The following bills were introduced: By Mr. Thompson, authorizing the commissioners of Franklin county to allow fees within their discretion to attorneys for services rendered in humane cases; by Mr. Thompson, providing that chemical experts, and experts on handwriting, shall receive expert witness fees; by Mr. Moore, providing for the recording by probate courts of receipts and memoranda in the conditional grants of lands and real estates; by Mr. Herrick, to limit jurisdiction of country justices of peace to township in which he is located in attachment cases as well as all other cases.

These bills were passed in the senate: By Mr. Cannon, to reimburse Matthias Held, treasurer of Marion township, Franklin county, to the amount of $1,600 for money lost in Reinhard bank failure in 1900; Mr. Seese, to reimburse John E. Washer for personal property lost in Akron riot in August, 1900, county commissioners of Summit county to fix amount of damages.

Resolutions offered: Mr. Thompson, to give credit to W. A. Taylor for authorship of issue of Ohio State and Hundred Year book, for edition issued under act of general assembly of 1900, for which another claimed credit.

Patrick Trial.

New York, Feb. 13.—The trial of A. T. Patrick, accused of the murder of William M. Rice the millionaire, was continued before Recorder Goff. When court adjourned Tuesday evening Albert S. Osborne, a handwriting expert of Rochester, was on the witness stand. He had finished a technical explanation of style in type and handwriting and had given reasons for his opinion that Rice's name was forged on various papers. Thursday Mr. Osborne began the illustrating on the blackboard of characteristics he found in the genuine signature of Mr. Rice and what he stated to be discrepancies discovered by analysis of the alleged forgeries.

AUSTRIAN VIEWS

Of the Effect of the Recent Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

Vienna, Feb. 13.—The Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance is the feature of news in the Austrian newspapers and Russia's probable action is widely discussed. The consensus of opinion among those who are generally in touch with the Russian view is that the militant Muscovites will endeavor to revenge themselves by stirring up disorders in Afghanistan, while the Russian government will lie low awaiting the moment when Japan, having organized the military forces of China, will join hands with the latter and drive out all Europeans with the exception of the Russians, who by that time will occupy an impregnable position in Manchuria. Some of the papers affect to see, in the publication of the treaty at the time when Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia is starting for the United States, "Great Britain's reply to Germany's rapprochement with the United States."

ENDLESS CHAIN SCHEME

Makes Work for the McKinley National Memorial Association.

Cleveland, Feb. 13.—An endless chain letter scheme, started by some person unknown to the officials of the McKinley National Memorial association, is giving serious work to the clerks of the organization both at Cleveland and Canton. Already $1,000 has been received through the chain of letters, each of which contains 10 cents. The letters are being sent to Judge William R. Day at Canton and the office force of the association there has found it impossible to handle the big volume of mail. As a result the letters are placed in sacks and shipped from Canton to Myron T. Herrick, the national treasurer at Cleveland. The last shipment contained 3,000 letters.

Work of Robbers.

Ft. Wayne Ind., Feb. 11.—The large general store of S. K. Randall at Avilla, a village north of here, was entered by burglars early Thursday. The safe was blown open with dynamite and $900 cash and a large amount in notes were taken. David Shanlin, a barber, returned from a sleigh ride with a young lady when the robbers were at work and discovered them in the store. He was captured and bound in the store, where he was kept until the job was completed. The safe, a massive affair, was completely wrecked by the explosion. There were five of the robbers and what direction they took is not yet known.

Philippine Tariff Bill.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Mr. McEnery (La) offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the secretary of war to inform the senate what railroads are being built now in Cuba, by whom they are being built, and under what authority of law. A bill was passed to vest in the Spanish treaty claims commission certain powers possessed by civil and district courts of the United States. Discussion of the Philippine tariff bill was resumed, Mr. Teller continuing his speech.

Boiler Blew Up.

London, Ky., Feb. 13.—A boiler explosion, in which five men were injured, two of whom will probably die, occurred at a sawmill six miles from this place. Those injured are: Henry Barnett, James Baker, Green Pope and Henry and Robert Baker. Barnett was blown 200 feet and is so badly hurt that the physicians have little hope of his recovery. James Baker is thought to be internally injured. He was struck by the smokestack. There is small hope of his recovery.

More Victims.

Constantinople, Feb. 13.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Princes Lutfullah and Sabahaddin, sons of Damad Mahmud pasha, the sultan's brother-in-law, and other prominent Turkish fugitives, who are charged with organizing at the prince's headquarters in Paris a conspiracy to overthrow the sultan. They will probably be sentenced to death by default, as was recently done in the case of Damad Mahmud pasha.

Groton, Mass., Feb. 13.—Secretary Cortelyou came to press headquarters with the information that the condition of the president's son is excellent and that President Roosevelt has decided to leave for Washington at an early hour.

BOERS' BRAVE FIGHT.

Dewet Proves More Than a Match For Kitchener.

BURGHERS BREAK BRITISH LINES.

Fiercely the Conflict Raged Over an Area of Fifty Miles—Thrilling Account of the Last Engagement Near Hellbron.

London, Feb. 13.—The detailed accounts which have just reached here of Lord Kitchener's combined movement to drive out the Boers from the enclosure of blockhouse lines show that the conflict was very picturesque and the most exciting incident of the whole campaign. Although apparently surrounded by an impenetrable ring of fire and steel, the Boers' dauntless bravery and dashing charges ultimately resulted in the majority's escape from the meshes of Lord Kitchener's closed-drawn net.

The British commander's scheme was the most extensive ever carried out during the present war. It consisted of a continuous line over 50 miles in length. Lord Kitchener, who personally directed the operations, was in close touch day and night with every detail of the movements. The Boers, though hard pressed, shrank from attempting to cross the railway which was patrolled throughout the night by armored trains equipped with powerful searchlights. The train lights were supplemented by stationary searchlights, and the spectacular effect, as witnessed from the trains, was most striking. By the side of the railroad were the dark forms of men lying in trenches or standing doing sentry duty. The gloom of the moonless night was intermittently relieved by the sweep of the searchlights.

The battle at Hellbron raged from 9 o'clock Friday night until 2 o'clock Saturday morning. Throughout the five hours a fearful ring of fire from rifles, cannon and pom-poms swept along the British lines in holding Dewet's Boers, who made repeated attempts to break out of the circle of troops. From various positions, behind rocks and dongas, the Boers kept up a vigorous fusillade, hoping to find a weak spot in the line. Simultaneously others charged, but again and again were the Boers repulsed, leaving dead, wounded and prisoners in the hands of the British. At the outset of the preparations the Boers realized that the operations were not merely an ordinary "drive," but a movement threatening them with total annihilation, and General Dewet assembled his whole force, and discussed the situation with the commanders, with the result that the Boers were split up into three forces. On Thursday night 500 Boers, headed by Vancollers, rushed a force of the Imperial Light Horse, yelling: "Storm, burghers!" About 100 Boers got through, but the remainder encountering a tremendous fire, were turned back.

Friday night's conflict ebbed and swelled over an area of 40 to 50 miles, in which the long-hunted, harassed and desperate men endeavored to find outlets. The Boers at one spot got within 30 yards of the British firing line, but the barbed wire balked the burghers and forced them to retreat. The firing never ceased. Added by the electric searchlights, the British harrowed the surrounding territory with shrapnel, shells and Maxim bullets. In the northern section the Boers made a desperate effort to break through. Collecting a number of cattle, the Boers drove them down on the British lines. Bending low in their saddles, the Boers rode among the cattle, making it impossible to distinguish them in the darkness. The British pickets opened a terrible fire and the Boers were everywhere met with a relentless hail of bullets. A long line of flame ran up and down the firing line, nearly 30 miles in length, as the armored trains flashed their searchlights over miles of country. The reports of the quick-firing guns along the entrenched line and the booming of the field guns and pom-poms sounded very deep amid the sharp crackling of the musketry, while Hellbron fort contributed to the universal din, with the deep roar of its naval gun. This lasted some 20 minutes, when gradually the rattle died until the crack of single shots were heard. Then all was quiet.

Japanese Driven Out.

Florence, Colo., Feb. 13.—The trouble between the Victor Fuel company and miners employed at their coal mines at Chandler, near this city, culminated in an attack on Japanese miners who had taken the places of the strikers and the demolition of the boarding house occupied by the Japanese. The mob drove the Japanese out of the camp.

STEEL AND IRON.

Supplies Are Inadequate to Meet the Country's Present Demands.

Cleveland, Feb. 13.—The Iron Trade Review, discussing market conditions in its current issue, says:

"Each week adds to the strength of the iron market and accents the inadequacy of the pig-iron and steel-making capacity to supply the country's present demands. The course of the market in the past week and the statistical position of pig-iron on Feb. 1 tell the same story of prodigious consumption beyond all record, and of production still lagging behind. Statistics of pig-iron output in January and of stock reductions between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1 point to consumption in the first month of the year at the rate of 18,000,000 gross tons a year, while blast furnace capacity active on Feb. 1 represents an output at the rate of about 17,600,000 tons a year. But we are not sure even of this inadequate capacity, the severe snowstorms of last week having again deranged railroad operations so that many furnaces were compelled to bank for a day or two for lack of coke. In the valleys and the Pittsburgh district this interruption is estimated to have cut down the pig-iron output by 5,000 tons. Conditions are better this week, but the ease with which the trade can be disturbed is still its most marked feature. Both pig-iron and steel have advanced in the week and buying of the former has been particularly heavy in the Chicago district.

Westward the Star of Empire.

Portland, Or., Feb. 13.—It has been decided by the Harriman lines to establish extensive stock yards on the peninsula between the Columbia and Willamette rivers, about four miles from this city. A tract of 100 acres of land has been bonded and the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company has a spur almost completed to the proposed site of the yards. Both the Oregon Railway and Navigation company and the Southern Pacific will reach the yards, and it is stated that one of the large packing houses of Chicago will establish an extensive plant here. The establishment of a stock yards and packing house will make this city the market for several hundred thousand head of live stock in the northwest which is now shipped to eastern points.

To Unite Express Companies.

San Francisco, Feb. 13.—The Call states that the four big express companies of the country, the Adams, American, United States and Wells Fargo—may merge into one corporation. It says that "word comes by private message from the east that E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific company, will be elected to the presidency of the Southern Pacific presidency of the Wells Fargo Express company at the next annual meeting of the stockholders." The paper admits that Harriman may be selected as president of the proposed company.

Chamberlain Honored.

London, Feb. 13.—The Metropolis bestowed its highest distinction on Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, when at the Guildhall it conferred on him the freedom of the city, in a gold casket. Mrs. Chamberlain accompanied her husband and they were greeted on their arrival with a fanfare of trumpets. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain were conducted to the library, where they were received by the lord mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, and the lady mayoress.

Cuyahoga Tax Duplicate.

Cleveland, Feb. 13.—The first of a series of mandamus suits to compel County Auditor Craig to again place upon the tax duplicate $20,000,000 over the amounts returned by five big Cleveland corporations was commenced in the common pleas court. The suit is brought by the state of Ohio ex rel. Newton D. Baker against W. E. Craig, county auditor. Mr. Baker is the assistant corporation counsel of Mayor Johnson's cabinet.

Naval Engagement.

Panama, Colombia, Feb. 13.—The Colombian government fleet left Panama Wednesday morning, met the insurgent warship Padilla off Agua Dulce at 4 p. m. and fought her for one hour. The government gunboat Boyaca was struck and slightly damaged. The Padilla was hit three times and sought protection under the insurgent guns ashore.

Counterfeiters Arraigned.

St. Louis, Feb. 13.—Ben Ivins was arraigned before United States Commissioner Gray, charged with being a member of a gang of counterfeiters having its headquarters at 1703 North Eighteenth street. Charles E. Davis and his wife, Stella Davis, Charles Ragsdale and Mabel Ivins, wife of Ben Ivins, were previously arraigned.

In a railroad collision at Waverly, N. J., Engineer Hazel was killed and several others severely injured.

A DESPERATE BATTLE

Between Officers and Mountaineers Fortified Tavern.

SIX DEAD AND SIX OTHERS DYING

Officers Attempt to Arrest Lee Turner a Noted Kentucky Mountaineer, But Are Met With a Volley Fired by the Fugitive's Friends.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 13.—Six are dead and as many are dying as the result of a battle between officers from Middlesboro and mountaineers. The battle, which was one of the most desperate of its kind in the history of mountain warfare, occurred between 4 and 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at Lee Turner's "Quarter House" saloon, three and a half miles from Middlesboro. Last month some mules and other goods of Turner's were levied on, in payment for a debt, and a few nights ago, it is alleged, he, with others, went to Virginia, where the property had been taken, secured what was formerly his and returned to the "Quarter House." Wednesday Deputy Sheriff Wat Thompson summoned a posse of 10 or 15 men, for the purpose of arresting Turner at his "Quarter House" saloon. The saloon is built of huge logs and is surrounded by a 10-foot fence, in which loopholes are cut, so that the inmates can shoot at outsiders. Turner's surrender was demanded. His reply was a round of shots. Charley Cecil of Middlesboro fell dead. Instantly the man who killed him fell back, pierced by a half dozen bullets. The officers scattered, and hiding behind trees and roots, poured a galling fire into the mountain fortress. In the fight John Doyle, a former railroad man, was badly wounded, perhaps fatally, and Simon Bean, another ex-railroader, was shot in the hand. As soon as Cecil was killed, his companions determined to burn Turner's rendezvous, and in the midst of the battle a man applied a torch to an exposed side of the building. A few minutes later the building was in flames. Several of the mountaineers came to the window and were immediately shot down. Turner and several of his friends, however, escaped, and he is now at Mingo mines, eight miles from Middlesboro. Several of his men perished in the flames.

Death List Growing.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 13.—According to the latest reports from the scene of Wednesday's fight at Lee Turner's "Quarter House" in Bell county, three and a half miles from this city, between officers and citizens of Middlesboro and mountaineers, friends of Turner, blue men were killed. The dead are: Charles Cecil, deputy sheriff, and the following mountaineers: Charles Dye, negro; Marsh Wilson, Perry Watson, Frank Johnson, Turner's bartender; Mike Welch, Turner's chief lieutenant; Jim Prador; a man named Hopper; John Doyle, of the officers' posse. It is also claimed that an unknown moonshiner perished in the flames when Turner's saloon was burned, and several other persons are reported to have been burned to death, although there is no confirmation of this rumor. Over 60 men were engaged in the conflict. The officers' posse, it is claimed, numbered 40 and they were opposed by 22 mountaineers.

Lee Turner, who is now at the Mingo mines, denies that he took part in the fight. It is stated that he has called 50 of his friends together to avenge the death of his companions and to resist any attempt which may be made by the officers to arrest him or any members of the mountaineers who took part in the fight.

To Prevent Railroad Collisions.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—A practical demonstration of the utility of a new departure, which it is claimed by railway officials will effectively prove the solution in a large degree of the railway collision problem, was made on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. The device consists of an exceedingly powerful headlight, which not only perfectly illuminates the track with an intensely brilliant shaft of light for a distance of a mile, but also embraces the striking and novel feature of a beam of light of almost equal brilliancy penetrating over 700 feet above, which can be clearly seen 10 miles distant. It is thereby possible for approaching trains to absolutely locate each other by this vertical shaft.

Cleveland, Feb. 13.—The following officers were elected at the closing meeting of the Ohio Plumbers' association: President, Ed Allen, Cleveland; vice president, A. S. W. Hoffman, Columbus; secretary and treasurer, John Lasso, Cleveland.

Our good friend Judge Westover of the Williamstown Courier is leading the fight to prevent Grant County from being placed in the Ninth Congressional district. The Judge doesn't know how nicely we might treat him.

A STATISTICIAN estimates that it costs $30 a year more to live than it did five years ago. If you have not had your wages raised this much in that time, you are worse off now in these good Republican times than you were then.

The coal trust operating over the C. and O. railroad has advanced the price to 12½ cents a bushel to dealers. Of course these Republican "institutions" are beneficent concerns! If the cold weather continues a week longer, Maysville will be confronted with a coal famine, although train loads pass through every day.

Yes, Br'er Marsh, we really believe that our schools are not up to the standard of cities of this class.—Public Ledger.
Believing a thing doesn't make it so. Has the editor of the Public Ledger visited the schools at any time during the past two years? Has he inspected the work of the pupils? Has he been inside of a school room during school hours any time during the past year or two?

The editor of the BULLETIN voted for and helped elect the new Board of Education and stands ready to approve and applaud every laudable effort to improve our public schools, but he cannot indorse the intemperate and unjust attacks made upon the old Board and the present corps of teachers by the Public Ledger, whose editor is a member of the new Board.

FRANK C. ANDREWS, who wrecked the City Savings Bank of Detroit and who is now under arrest on the charge of fraudulently obtaining from the bank over $1,000,000, is a Republican politician and has been posing the past year or two as a "reformer." By some hook or crook he induced the pliant Michigan Legislature to legislate the Democratic Police Board of Detroit out of office, create new one and confer the appointing power upon the City Council, which was Republican. The Council then made him Police Commissioner, and he was running things to suit himself when the crash came.

Now, WHILE the BULLETIN admits that it has supplemented its own opinions by paragraphs from "interested parties," the Ledger is free to say that its entire stock of information has been gathered from uninterested parties and the school records.

The editor of the Ledger evades our question. We stated Wednesday that, with the exception of three small paragraphs incorporated in our first article, the editor of the BULLETIN is responsible for all that has appeared on this subject. And then we added this in reference to the Ledger's article:

It is the general impression that "interested parties" or an "interested party" is not only "loading its guns," but is doing the shooting. Is this true?

Now to make the matter plainer, we will state that the BULLETIN's articles on this subject have all been written by the editor of the BULLETIN, with the exception of the three paragraphs referred to and they were contributed at our solicitation. Now will the editor of the Ledger be as frank and please state whether the Ledger's editorial entitled "School Reform," (the cause of all this discussion), was written by the editor of the Ledger? Yes or no?

The heirs of the late Mrs. Mary S. Stairs have decided to take the real estate at the appraised value. Mr. Sam W. Stairs will take the home property, the The Dover News office building and the dwelling adjoining at $3,500, Mr. Henry Patton will take the brick dwelling on Hall street at $700, and Mr. Charles Patton a frame and a brick dwelling on Hall street at $350.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "David Hechinger, the big clothing merchant and fine horse fancier of Maysville, Ky., was in the city, and purchased of L. T. Anderson, Jr., proprietor of the Stag Cafe, a well matched, high-bred team of trotters at $1,200 for Eastern parties. The horses will be shipped from Mr. Anderson's stock farm, near Maysville, in a few days. Mr. Hechinger sends a number of fine horses East every year, purchased in this territory for friends."

FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTERS.

New Ruling by the Department That Has Created Consternation Among Republican Congressmen.

[Washington City dispatch.]

Members of the House who are interested in having fourth-class postmasters appointed, are much perplexed at the attitude of the Postoffice Department, recently adopted. A member went to the appointment clerk Wednesday and asked him to make out papers for the appointment of one of his constituents.

"Impossible," responded the clerk, affably. When the member, who had gone "up in the air," alighted again he inquired more calmly, "Why is it impossible?"

"You will have to see Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow," replied the clerk.

Burning with indignation the member sought Bristow and demanded an explanation.

"No removals are to be made in the cases of fourth-class postmasters except for cause," was the answer. The indignant Representative explained that the commission of the incumbent had expired and he wanted a new man appointed, but Mr. Bristow said the Postmaster-General had ruled that the commissions were not limited to four years, but that postmasters served until their successors were appointed, and that the latter would not be appointed until the postmasters died, resigned or were removed "for cause."

What havoc such a policy will play with the plans of members of Congress to whose political machines the fourth-class postoffices mean so much can readily be imagined, and a storm of protest is expected against the proposition to put the fourth-class postmasters under quasi Civil Service protection.

The Cincinnati police, aided by U. S. detectives, have succeeded in breaking up a gang of "river pirates" who have been operating along the river between Maysville and Cincinnati. The leader, James Meade, alias "Jim Anderson," is in custody in Cincinnati, charged with shooting to kill. Laura Belle Moore, the "Queen of Shantytown," a member of the gang, gave them away, and says the revolver Meade used was part of the proceeds of a burglary in Maysville. They are charged with robbing the postoffice at Augusta.

They come in four sizes only--2 1/2, 3, 3 1/2 and 4--widths, A, B, C, and no two pair are alike. Major Nat P. Piester, of the Cincinnati recruiting station, received orders from the Adjutant General's office Thursday to secure suitable colored recruits for the Ninth and Tenth cavalry. This is the first order received for colored recruits for more than a year, and during that time the Cincinnati office was compelled to turn away enough men to equip two colored regiments. Within the next month about 15,000 soldiers will be discharged from service in the United States army now in the Philippines, and all recruiting offices are to be instructed to recruit men to take the place of the discharged soldiers.

WILD GOOSE CHASE.

Two Old Virginia Farmers, Deluded by a Slick Tongued Individual, Here Looking For an Estate.

Thursday afternoon County Clerk Wood's office was visited by a couple of old farmers by the name of Owens who had come all the way from Cabell County, Virginia, on what they soon learned was "a wild goose chase."

Their story was that they were recently visited by a smooth individual, whose name they did not divulge. The fellow spent three weeks at their home, and told that they had fallen heir to an estate of 400 acres of land in this county. He told them the land was some distance out from Maysville, that there were four churches located on it, and that an electric railway connected the estate with Maysville. He made them believe they had inherited this from a man named John S. or John R. Owens.

After a conversation with County Clerk Wood they were convinced they had been deceived and left sadder and it is to be hoped wiser. Although they did not say so, the smooth individual had no doubt eured them out of some of their good hard cash.

Riley Ham, who was shot at Flemingsburg several weeks ago, was removed to his home at Vanceburg a few days since. He stood the trip as well as could be expected for one in his condition.

The Commercial Tribune says: "The tobacco fair at Maysville on February 22nd will be largely attended by Cincinnati men. A special train leaving at noon of that day will carry representatives from the commercial bodies, as well as tobacco men."

Dixie McKinley, of Poinexter, Harrison County, delivered his 17,000 pound crop of tobacco to O. L. Garnett last week at $9.75 a hundred. The crop was raised on eight and one-half acres of land, says the Cynthiana Times, and was one of the best raised in that county.

SARGENT'S

Gem Food Chopper!

An up-to-date kitchen utensil—a combined luxury and necessity which saves time, lightens labor, and does better work than the old-fashioned chopping bowl and knife, the place of which it takes. It is a machine intended for daily use in the kitchen. It is not a complicated piece of mechanism; there are few parts, so that it cannot get out of order. It is easy to take apart, easy to put together, easy to adjust and can be cleaned in a jiffy. There are no knives to sharpen, the four steel cutters being made so they sharpen themselves.

There is not an article of food a housekeeper wants to chop that cannot be chopped in the Gem. It will be found useful in summer and winter, spring and autumn, in preparing the breakfast, dinner, luncheon and supper. When clamped to the kitchen table it is ready for use throughout the day or as long as it may be required. It chops raw meat, cooked meat, all kinds of vegetables and fruit, bread, crackers, cheese, nuts, and many other articles used in making substantial dishes. No housekeeper can afford to be without it.

SECRETLY WEDDED.

Miss Naulene Dunaway and Mr. Garland Ruark Wedded at Portsmouth in December.

[Vanceburg Sun.]

The Sun of December 26th stated that Mr. Garland Ruark and Miss Naulene Dunaway were shopping in Portsmouth the previous Saturday, (December 21), and it now transpires that the most important purchase they made that day was a marriage license, after which they secured the services of a minister and were married, binding all parties who knew of the wedding to secrecy.

They returned to their home here the same day and very few suspected that they were man and wife until last Thursday when they made announcement to their friends.

Garland is employed as telegraph operator for the C. and O. railroad at Garrison and we doubt if there is a more popular young man in our little city, his friends being limited only by his acquaintances. Miss Dunaway has for several years been one of Lewis County's most successful and popular teachers.

Mrs. Ruark has a number of relatives and many friends in Mayeville.

Miss Della Powell, of Nicholasville, who was assaulted by Tom Brown, is hovering between life and death as the result of the great shock to her nervous system. Brown was hung by a mob.

The mother who would be horrified at the thought of letting her daughter wander away to a strange country without guide or counsel, yet permits her to enter that unknown land of womanhood without counsel or caution. Then, in utter ignorance, the maiden must meet physical problems whose solution will affect her whole future life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been well named a "God-send to women." It corrects irregularities and imparts such vigorous vitality to the delicate womanly organs, as fits them for their important functions. Many a nervous, hysterical, peevish girl has been changed to a happy young woman after the use of "Favorite Prescription" has established the sound health of the organs peculiarly feminine.

Every woman should own a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The same book of 1008 pages in substantial cloth for 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
